

The Contents.

ty, and the planeness of the Cohering Surfaces,
shewn to be one Condition of the Cause thereof,

p. 101

§ 45. An Inquiry into the Condition, of the general principle of Gravitation, that seems best to account for the Appearances of Cohesion, p. 104

Ibid. That there are several Degrees of Cohesion observable in Bodies, which seem to require different Conditions of the general Principle of Attraction,

p. 113

§ 46. The Appearances and Cause of Elasticity, explain'd from the general Principle of Attraction,

p. 114

C H A P. II.

Of the Origination of this World, and of Mankind in particular.

§ 1. THe Introduction, pag. 1

§ 2. The Epicurean Hypothesis, about the Origin of the Universe, p. 2

§ 3. That Matter has no other Quality answerable to Self-Existence, with which this Hypothesis, supposes Matter endow'd, p. 3

§ 4. This System of things, cou'd not have been Mechanically produc'd, because Motion is not essential to matter, p. 4

Ibid. Two different Demonstrations, of Motion's not being essential to Matter, p. 5 & 6

a 2

§ 5.

