
The Contents.

- § 16. A Method to cut off from an infinite Space an interminated Space, equal to any giv'n finite Space, p. 41
- § 17. This Arithmetick illustrated in several Problems about infinitely small Quantities, and particularly in those about the Angles of Contact of Paraboloids, p. 56
- § 18. That Infinites of all Kinds, in their positive Nature, and affirmative Properties, are equally above the Comprehension of Creatures, which ought to quiet our Minds, in our Difficulties about several Subjects, both in Philosophy and Religion, p. 53
-

THE

